As per the supreme Court order, no institution could be regulated under the old Regulations once the new 2014 Regulations were notified.</li> <li>2. In this back drop, the RPRO was introduced by NCTE(HQ) to ensure a smooth transition from the old to the new Regulations.</li> <li>3. The complications of the new Regulations are more for the courses whose 'basic unit' sizes were mentioned and/or whose duration were extended to 2 years. In the case of B.Ed , for example, earlier, 1 unit of 100 became 2 basic units of 50 thereby having implications for augmentation of infrastructure and increasing the faculty strength.</li> <li>4. The institutions were given time till 30th October 2015 to erect the new facilities to ensure conformity with the norms and standards under the new Regulations. On a case by case basis further extensions of time were also given .The NCTE(HQ) has also, by a common order, extended the time-limit for augmentation of infrastructural facilities by 30 May, 2016.</li> </ol> |
